MACHINE RULE DOOMED.

Review of Movement to Re-establish People's Sovereignty.

Machine rule is the rule of the few through the convention system. The people are misrepresented in the conventions, and at election time the only choice is "which machine shall be elected ruler?"

This is machine rule. The remedy is to re-establish a system whereby the voters can instruct representatives, or, better still, establish a system whereby voters can vote the measures proposed by the city council, legislatures and congress, and can initiate measures by petition.

This method of banishing the rule of the few and re-establishing self government is assured now in eleven American states, the latest to fall in line being Maine, where the Democratic and Republican parties have both promised to abolish the present system. Direct nominations and a direct vote system for public questions is to be the future system of Maine.

A review of the movement for the people's rule is inspiring. Fourteen years ago the American Federation of Labor and other reform forces in this country declared for the establishment of the initiative and referendum. Four years later the fusion legislature in South Dakota submitted a constitutional amendment for the system, which was completely established in 1890.

In 1900 the people of Utah voted to establish a constitutional amendment for the initiative and referendum, but three Republican legislatures have refused to install the system.

The people of Oregon adopted in 1902 a constitutional amendment for the initiative and referendum, and it was established for use two years later. The initiative has been used for twelve questions and the referendum for but one.

Nevada established the referendum in 1904. In Texas the advisory initiative within the political parties was established early in 1905.

The Illinois legislature established a public opinion system in 1901, and under it Chicago is establishing public ownership of the street railway systems.

In 1904 the state machine in Montana was forced to submit a constitutional amendment for the initiative and referendum to be voted on next fall.

In Delaware the last legislature was induced to submit the question, "Shall the legislature establish the advisory initiative and referendum?"

This year success is practically achieved in Maine, as has been pointed out. In the new state of Oklahoma the adoption of the initiative and referendum is believed to be practically assured. At the coming constitutional convention a majority of the delegates will doubtless be pledged to a direct vote system for public questions.

These eleven American states are assured of the re-establishment of the people's sovereignty. In all the other states there is a strong movement along the same lines, which is sure to succeed, for the world's tendency is in that direction. A national campaign is also in progress along lines that are such that it is possible to achieve complete success in this year's campaign.

Horsehoofers Raise Dues.

At its recent convention the Journeymen Horsehoofers' International union raised the per capita tax from 20 cents to 25 cents a month and adopted the stamp system for payment of dues. The question of paying sick and death benefits will be submitted to a referendum vote, as will the question of electing officers by popular vote instead of at conventions. The political policy of the American Federation of Labor was endorsed by the convention. All the old officers were re-elected. John Fitzpatrick of Chicago and D. D. Driscoll of Boston were elected delegates to the convention of the American Federation of Labor.

Labor's Programme in Colorado.

Organized labor in Colorado is up against the meanest kind of machine rule in the state government. State troops are employed against the wage earners whenever the monopolists want them. It is especially interesting, therefore, to know about the programme of organized labor in Colorado. The State Federation of Labor is entering its efforts upon the establishment of a direct vote system for public questions. The demand is for a change in the system of government. The convention system, through which the few are in power, must go.

Credit Belongs to Labor.

For nine years the organizations of labor in Georgia have been in season and out of season the persistent friends and tireless advocates of the cause of the child worker. They have fought his battles when his friends were few, and no element of our Georgia population has a better right to rejoice in the triumph of the measure than the sons of toil, who have never wavered in their allegiance to the principle which it carries—Augusta Georgian.

Labor Briefs.

By a referendum vote of the Granite Cutters' association, the international headquarters will be continued at Quincy, Mass., for the next five years. Many members of the United Association of Plumbers, Gasfitters and Steamfitters are urging that the organization establish a home for the aged and infirm. An offer of a house in Pueblo, Colo., is being considered by the officers.

The Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen has been in existence twenty-three years, has 728 local branches, with 78,000 members, $1,500,000 in its treasury and pays out $140,000 every thirty days in claims.

Light and the Eyes.

The effect of artificial light on the pigment of the iris is to make it paler; also prolonged eye work will do this. Eyes never become quite blanched, like the hair, but they do fade, and very appreciably.

Have You A Cold Room?

In most houses there is a room without proper heating facilities—to say nothing of chilly hallways. Even though the heat of your stoves or furnace should be inadequate to warm the whole house there need not be one cold spot if you have a

STANDARD OIL COMPANY OF NEW YORK

A STRIKELESS VICTORY.

Paper Workers Secure Shorter Day by Peaceful Methods.

Labor unions are not always striking and usually they are governed by men who are reasonable and do all in their power to effect a settlement of difficulties which arise between the employers and the employees to the advantage of both. The point in question is well illustrated by the conference which was held recently at New York, of which the Machinists' Journal has the following account:

Enos Madigan, business agent at Schenectady, N. Y., took part in a conference last month which resulted in one of the greatest victories achieved by labor in its struggle for a shorter workday. The conference took place in New York city at the offices of the International Paper company on Broad street and was participated in by the representatives of that combination, representatives of the International Brotherhood of Papermakers, representatives of the Carpenters and Woodworkers and Mr. Madigan, representing the International Association of Machinists. An agreement was reached which averted a strike that would have affected 10,000 papermakers throughout the country as well as thousands of other mechanics directly affected by the papermaking industry.

By the terms of this agreement the eight hour day is established, and eighteen paper factories are affected, which practically covers the entire industry in the papermaking section. The eight hour day was inaugurated in one factory on Sept. 1, and in an additional factory each succeeding month the eight hour day will go into effect until in eighteen months the 10,000 members of the brotherhood and all others affected will have received it.

There is to be no reduction in pay, and this simply means that every employee receives one-third more in wages and works one-third less in hours than he did formerly, because the paper mills had been running twenty-four hours a day in shifts of twelve hours each. When it is remembered how strongly conservative the employers in the papermaking industry have been in the past, how antagonistic they have been to everything of a radical nature, as everything was called that would create trades union conditions and hours, it will be seen that the gain has been an exceedingly great one. Therefore Mr. Madigan and his colleagues are to be congratulated upon their success.

As an instance showing how necessary it is to go slow at times and how haste can best be made by moving slowly, it was shown most conclusively at the New York conference that if all the paper mills were to start simultaneously on an eight hour day there were not enough papermakers in the country to man them. Hence it was decided that the eight hour day would be started in one mill at a time and that eighteen months would be consumed in making the change.

All trees have seeds. In some, however, the seeds are so small in proportion to the size of the tree that they altogether escape ordinary notice.

A Fortunate and Grateful Woman.

Mrs. J. H. Giles of Everett, Pa., says: "I suffered for many years from kidney and gravel trouble. The pains from the gravel were simply awful. No physicians or medicines at home did me any good. I finally began using Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, of Roundout, N. Y. A few words tell the result. I am a happy and perfectly well woman once more."

Mary Stuckley, Mauch Chunk, Pa.

Sour Stomach

"I need Cascarets and feel like a new man. I have been suffering from dyspepsia and sour stomach for the last two years. I have been taking medicine and other drugs, but could find no relief except for a short time. I will recommend Cascarets to my friends as the only thing for indigestion and sour stomach and to keep the bowels in good condition. They are very fine for me."
